We will adopt an investment policy which is flexible and adaptable, which entails the Fund, in accordance with its investment policy. Our trading strategy when managing the portfolio of investments may vary depending on the prevailing market environment, and interest rate outlook. We will largely maintain a buy and hold strategy for the Fund's investments. KEY RISKS

6. What are the key risks associated with this product?

General Risks

- Market risk – Market risk arises because of factors that affect the entire market place. Factors such as economic growth, political stability and social environment are some examples of conditions that have an impact on businesses, whether positive or negative. It stems from the fact that there are economy-wide perils, or instances of political or social instability which threaten all businesses. Hence, the Fund will be exposed to market uncertainties and fluctuations in the economic, political and social environment that will affect the market price of the investments either in a positive or negative way.
- Fund management risk – This risk refers to the day-to-day management of the Fund by us which will impact the performance of the Fund. For example, investment decisions undertaken by us as a result of an incorrect view of the market or any non-compliance with internal policies, investment mandate, the Deed, relevant law or guidelines due to factors such as human error, fraud, dishonesty or weaknesses in operational process and systems, may adversely affect the performance of the Fund.
- Operational risk - Operational risk is the risk of loss due to the breakdown, deficiencies or weaknesses in the operational support functions resulting in the operations or internal control processes producing an insufficient degree of customer quality or internal control by the Manager. Operational risk is typically associated with human error, system failure, fraud and inadequate or defective procedures and controls.
- Inflation risk - This is the risk that your investment in the Fund may not grow or generate income at a rate that keeps pace with inflation. This would reduce your purchasing power even though the value of the investment in monetary terms has increased.
- Loan financing risk - This risk occurs when you take a loan or financing to finance your investment. The inherent risk of investing with borrowed money includes you being unable to service the loan repayments. In the event Units are used as collateral, you may be required to top-up your existing instalment if the prices of Units fall below a certain level due to market conditions. Failing which, the Units may be sold at a lower NAV per Unit as compared to the NAV per Unit at the point of purchase towards settling the loan.
- Risk of non-compliance - This risk refers to the possibility that the rules governing the Fund which is set out in the Deed or the Guidelines may not be observed by the Manager, whether intentionally or otherwise. Whilst not every non-observance to the rules governing the Fund will necessarily result in some losses to the Fund, investors are advised that the potential for the Fund to suffer losses may be heightened if the non-observation of the rules governing the Fund is due to the fraud or dishonest acts on the part of the Manager.
- Liquidity risk - Liquidity risk arises in two scenarios. The first scenario is where an investment cannot be sold due to the unavailability of a buyer for that investment. The second scenario exists where the investment, by its nature, is thinly traded. This will have the effect of causing the investment to be sold below its fair value which would adversely affect the NAV of the Fund. Upon such event and in the best interest of the Unit Holders, the Trustee may suspend the repurchase of Units requests. Please refer to “Suspension of Dealing in Units” of this Information Memorandum for more details.

Specific risks

- Interest rate risk – This risk refers to the impact of interest rate changes on the valuation of money market instruments. When interest rates rise, the money market instruments prices generally decline and this may lower the market value of the money market instruments. The reverse may apply when interest rates fall. For investments into deposits, the fluctuations in the interest rates will not affect the placement of deposits but will result in opportunity loss to the Fund if the placement of deposits is made at lower interest rate.
- Credit and default risk – Credit risk relates to the creditworthiness of the issuers of the money market instruments and their expected ability to make timely payment of interest and/or principal. Any adverse situations faced by the issuer may impact the value as well as liquidity of the money market instruments. In the case of rated money market instruments, this may lead to a credit downgrade. Default risk relates to the risk of an issuer of the money market instruments either defaulting on payments or failing to make payments in a timely manner which will in turn adversely affect the value of the money market instruments. This could adversely affect the value of the Fund.

Note: Please refer to “Understanding the Risks of the Fund” in Information Memorandum for further details on each risk.

It is important to note that events affecting the investments cannot always be foreseen. Therefore, it is not possible to protect investments against all risks.
